HELP THE SAFER
SUPERHEROES DEFEAT THE CYBER SEA MONSTERS!

MEET SELPHIRE:

Selphire, also known as the digital world lightning bolt. This monster loves the online world of pictures, videos and viral/online challenges. She particularly enjoys cross-platform sharing, sharing risky online challenges, and sharing personal information via pictures and videos.

She loves how the digital world has made it very easy for content to reach as many people as possible within a short period.

Your task is to help Internettie and Agent Justice explore ways to stay ahead of Selphire. You will learn:

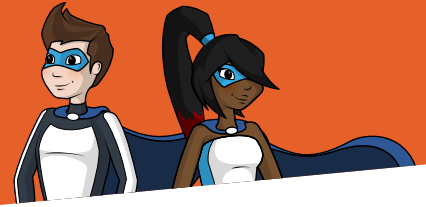

- Permission in the digital world
- Safe ways to take part in online challenges
- Cross-platform sharing
- How to be Share Aware

Colour in your own version of Selphire, and perhaps even draw or write what she is after? You may want to do some of the other activities first.

Ask a grown up to take a picture of your Selphire and post it on Facebook, Twitter or Instagram with the hashtag: #CyberAmbassadors

TANGLED ON THE WEB

Help! Your friend has shared a 'slip-up' picture online and they need to make sure Selphire does not get hold of it. In order to do this you have to reach the #GoFISH fish to protect this 'slip-up' from being shared on a different platform.

Grab a stopwatch and time how long it will take you to help your friend escape Selphire and reach the #GoFISH. Use a highlighter or colour to show the way.

How did you get on? Write how long it took you in the time box.

#GoFISH tip: Information online travels much faster than your journey to the #GoFISH.

GOING VIRAL CHECKLIST

The digital world is well known for online challenges and trends. Before taking part in an online challenge, you need to ensure it is safe.

Below are some #GoFISH smart tips to make sure you are taking part in a safe online challenge. If you cannot tick all the boxes on the checklist, it may be safer to give that challenge a miss!

I don't feel pressured to take part just because my friend is taking part.

It doesn't involve anyone getting hurt.

It's appropriate for my age.

I have checked with a trusted adult to make sure they are happy for me to take part.

Write down how you will respond if you come across a worrying or upsetting online challenge. Who will you talk to and will you still take part?

#GOFISH SMART BINGO

The grid below contains some ways in which you may have defeated Selphire and be share aware. Put a tick next to any of the things you might have done whilst online. Keep up the great work!

I asked for permission before sharing content that involved another person.

I always check my background in photos and videos to make sure I am not sharing any personal data.

I checked with a trusted adult before taking part in an online challenge

I have set privacy settings on my online accounts to stop other people from seeing my content.

I checked with a trusted adult before sharing a picture or video online.

I have not shared my friends' pictures or videos across different platforms.

#GOFISH TIPS

Here are some #GoFISH tips on how you can continue to be Share Aware in the online world and defeat Selphire to protect your content.

- Remember information in the digital world travels faster than you imagine.
- When sharing pictures and videos online, make sure that content does not give away personal information such as a location or school name.
- Before you share content involving another person, ask for their permission.
- Once you share something online, you no longer have control over it. You may delete but that does not mean it is off the web.
- Turn on privacy settings on any picture or video sharing platforms/apps to make sure only your friends can see your content.
- Think carefully before sharing any pictures or videos online, they can easily be changed or shared on multiple platforms.
- Do not send pictures or videos of yourself that you would not be happy for the world (or your grandma) to see.
